Release of the Second Edition of Rules of Evidence in International Arbitration: an Annotated Guide

(Informa Law / Routledge, London, 2019)

For the past two decades, the standard procedures for the taking of evidence in international arbitration have developed into a generally coherent system, broadly contained in the IBA Rules on the Taking of Evidence in International Arbitration (1999 & 2010). In recent times, technological advances, increased diversity of players, and introduction of additional sets of rules, such as the Prague Rules, have presented new challenges. How do these recent developments impact the international arbitration system?

On the occasion of the publication of the Second Edition of the Rules of Evidence in International Arbitration, the California International Arbitration Council, together with Musick Peeler and the USC Gould School of Law are pleased to present an afternoon program on the intriguing topic of the taking of evidence in international arbitration. Young arbitration practitioners will discuss the current best practices in evidence taking from a common and civil law perspective. The event will be an ideal forum for young but also more seasoned practitioners to exchange thoughts on international arbitration and to enrich their network in the region.

This event will be held in conjunction with the USC/JAMS Arbitration Institute's Fourth Annual Symposium taking place on March 13, 2019, on Best Practices in International Arbitration.

Refreshments will be served following the discussion.
